In coordination with NISG many states had established an online system of licensing and registration. He exhorted the Food Safety Commissioners of the state to expedite the licensing and registration of FBOs because the last date i.e. 4th February, 2014 is approaching he made it clear that the date would not be extended further. Therefore, all the states were requested to submit the estimated number of FBOs by 30th November, 2013. It is important to have food analyst in each state as this Act is based on science and if food analyst is not there then the state will find it difficult to prove its case in a court. Appellate Tribunals need to be established for fast disposal of the cases in which the Adjudicating Officer have already passed orders.

   He also emphasised that all the aspects of the Act besides issuance of licenses and registration should be given importance. Monitoring systems and proformas should be developed to judge the performance of FSOs, DOs and AOs. She also mentioned that the funds will be allocated in the ratio of 90:10 for North Eastern States, Jammu & Kashmir, Himachal Pradesh & Uttarakhand and 75:25 for rest of the States/UTs.

Director (QA) emphasized that 72 public laboratories need to be upgraded and before the process starts complete manpower should be in place. The next agenda would be of setting up new laboratories, one new laboratory to be established in every 20 districts. This would be accomplished by end of the 12th plan. She further informed that gap analysis has already been initiated and would be completed in the next 4 months. Up gradation of labs would be based on the gap analysis report. Two food analyst exams will be conducted one of old course and second of new course. Agenda Item No.9: Coordination with states

CEO, FSSAI informed the states that FSSAI officials have been allotted states as nodal officers for better and immediate coordination. States may send their issues to the concerned nodal officers, besides writing to the Authority.

Agenda Item No. 10: SOP on roll out of Licensing in States to be developed with inputs from the focus group comprising of 3-4 States who are actively enforcing FSSA CEO informed that Commissioner Food Safety Tamil Nadu, Goa and Maharashtra will join NISG in finalising the SOP and suggestions from other states are also invited in this regard.

A list of all such identified persons should be submitted at FSSAI by 15th October, 2013, so that the process of trainings them can be taken up early. This will require several training/capacity building programmes for implementation and certification processes as well as promotion for these components. Subsequently, it is proposed that in April, 2014, steps for implementation of another three components, i.e., Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Point (HACCP), Safe Food Tasty Food (SFTF) and Hygienic Certification of Street Food Vendors (CSV) will be initiated. It is understood that QCI (under Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Govt. of India) is an organization that has the above competence. Currently, there is no other such body engaged in grading accreditation in the above areas. National Accreditation Board for Certification Bodies (NABCB) working under the framework of QCI is also a member and signatory of International Accreditation Forum. Thus, FSSAI has taken the view that it would be appropriate to work with QCI and its constituent bodies for empanelling/recognition inspection/certification agencies and subsequent accreditation.
