

SAFE STREET FOOD FOR MUMBAI

SVT College, Mumbai

July 18, 2011

FDA Maharashtra and AFST (I) Mumbai Chapter in association with SVT College of Home Science, SNDT Women's University, Juhu, Mumbai came together for the cause of improving street food safety in Mumbai. As a first step, the organizations jointly conducted a training session on 16th July 2011 at the SVT College auditorium for about 50 street food vendors from the Juhu and Girgaum chowpatti areas. The programme was conceptualized with the aim of bringing the basic GMP/GHP awareness in street food handlers in line with FSSAI requirements. Mrs. Seema Vyas, Commissioner FDA Maharashtra, Dr. Jagmeet Madan, Principal SVT College, celebrity chef Mr. Vishnu Manohar, Mr. Prabodh Halde, Hon. Vice President AFST (I) Mumbai Chapter, Mr. Sanjay Indani, RSM Astute Consulting and Dr. Nilesh Amrutkar, Secretary AFST (I) Mumbai Chapter made their presence. FDA officials from various districts of Maharashtra were also present at the event. Dr. Jagmeet Madan, in her address urged the street vendors to actively cooperate in the training and thereafter for the project planned for the vendors in collaboration with the college students. Mrs. Seema Vyas, in her warm address, assured the street vendors to provide every support required for the implementation. Mr. Prabodh Halde set the context for the programme and encouraged the participants to gain maximum benefits.

The street vendors were trained for the good hygiene and sanitary practices in a class room session coupled with practical demonstrations by the college students. The students of SVT College presented an interesting street play encompassing various aspects of food safety and hygiene which received huge applauses and appreciation. Mr. Sanjay Indani and

Mr. Vishnu Manohar conducted the class room session on basic practices to be followed for hygiene and safety of food. Mr. Indani covered elaborately various aspects of basic hygiene and sanitation in his presentation and made the session lively. Mr. Manohar addressed the street vendors with motivational words. The second part of the session which was coordinated by the college staff of Department of Food and Nutrition along with the NSS team consisted of practical demonstrations on safe cooking to the vendors. Great efforts were made by the students to set up stalls with detailed charts, other visuals and demonstrations of simple good practices for the vendors.

The stalls were based on different generic and specific themes like personal hygiene, good practices for fruits and juice vending centres and more. The demonstrations were conducted for the vendors in groups. These demonstrations were well received and highly appreciated by one and all.

Mr. Ramchandra Shivram Kadam, Vice President of the Street Vendor Association along with the members attended the event and appreciated the initiative. Following the practicals, the vendors were requested for feedback and suggestions on the program and the implementation approach to which they positively responded. The program in all was an enriching experience for the vendors who learned better food handling practices and promised to practice the same. SVT College in collaboration with the partners of AFST, FDA and Equinox Labs also intends to take up a pilot project to work with street vendors of Juhu beach; the details of the same are being worked out.
